FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 3, 1899.

The president's thanksgiving proclamation this year reads like a stump speech.

Through a proclamation by President McKinley, Thanksgiving Day has been set for Thursday, Nov. 30.

Most any of us would have been satisfied with the allowance of Cornelius Vanderbilt, the disinherited son.

It said that Indiana wastes $90,000 each time she holds an election by the overpayment of election officers. The matter is emphasized just now by the fact that all the officers except inspectors, in the recent election, get two days' pay. The inspectors get three.

The Carter case does not seem to be entirely ended yet. Carter has appealed to the United States circuit court, and is using every effort to secure a reversal of the decision of the state courts. Those persons with whom he conspired to defraud the government are doing their utmost to help him.

Miss Helen Miller Gould has given $60,000 to the League for Social Service, to be used in a crusade against Mormonism. The league has issued 1,000,000 pamphlets in pursuance of Miss Gould's directions. They are aimed directly at Mormonism and Brigham H. Roberts as congressman, and will be distributed all over the country. When they are exhausted millions more will follow them.

A new legal question has arisen for decision in Boston. A young man of that city who has been sued for breach of promise declares that he never was legally engaged to the young lady, since he proposed on Sunday. This loop-hole for young men should be promptly declared against, since otherwise there would be destroyed most of the pleasure of those associations on that day which, of all others, precedent has made sacred to courtship.

By the terms of the Vanderbilt will Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., the eldest son, is given only $1,500,000, which in the eyes of the Vanderbilts amounts to a disinheritance. He offended his father by marrying against his approval. Alfred Vanderbilt inherits about $50,000,000, and each of the other children, $7,500,000. Alfred, however, will give his brother Cornelius $6,000,000, so that he will have as much as each of the other children except Alfred.

The extent of the Jones movement in Ohio causes a wide difference of opinion. The correspondent of the Chicago Record declares that he will get a large vote and that he will draw most of it from republicans. On the other hand, the correspondent of the New York Times is confident that his vote will be a small one because he stands for nothing. He predicts that both the old parties will muster their followers about the same as the past five years and that the republicans will have their usual majority.

CONSUMPTION LEADS.
During the Quarter There were 549 Deaths From That Cause.
The state board of health has received complete reports for the quarter ending Sept. 30. During the quarter there were 5,669 deaths from all causes, of which 549 were from consumption, 365 from cholera infantum, 46 from cerebro spinal meningitis, 263 from typhoid fever out of 861 cases reported, 80 from croup and diphtheria out of 384 cases reported. There were 46 cases of smallpox, with no deaths.

The Circuit Court.
The foreclosure proceedings brought by the First National bank of Peru against Jacob and Elizabeth Galbreath and John and Elizabeth Daufel have been decided in favor of the plaintiff. They have been rendered a finding of $3,316.50 due on a note and a mortgage. Richard A. Edwards has been given judgment for $102.36 against the same parties on a note. The defendants were granted 30 days in which to pay it. The case brought by the state against Henry M. Rauch for unlawful detention of real estate was settled by the court's sustaining the motion to quash the affidavit.

The Walter Raupfur Brewing Co. has been rendered a judgment of $256.33 on a note against Alva and Simon Myers, Emory Ocker and Joseph H. Mead.
Lillie Glaze was granted a divorce from Sim Glaze.
J. D. McLaren was allowed $200 on a claim of $250 against the estate of Horace Corbin de'd.
The suit for divorce brought by Jennie E. Reed against Martin Reed was closed by the courts ordering the defendant to pay to the plaintiff $12, and $3 every second week.
In the case of Katie McBride et al. vs. Calvin Nelson et al. for partition, the court has modified the terms of sale and has made them one-third down, one-third in 12 months and one-third in 24 months.

PRESBYTERIAN WOMEN.
They Elect Synodical Association Officers and Fix Next Place of Meeting.
At the Presbyterian Synodical association which was in session at South Bend last week, the following officers were elected for the coming year:
President—Home, Mrs. J. F. Kendall, Laporte; foreign, Mrs. A. B. Mitchell, Indianapolis.
Secretary and treasurer—Home, Mrs. F. F. McCrea, Indianapolis; foreign, Mrs. R. V. Hunter, Indianapolis.
Recording secretary—Mrs. W. H. Hubbard, Indianapolis.
Secretary of literature—Mrs. E. B. Thomson, Crawfordsville.
Secretary of young people's work—Miss Florence Lanham, Indianapolis.
Richmond, Ind., was selected as the place of next year's meeting.

Rev. Raymond at St. Louis.
My first visit to St. Louis was in the fall of 1891, to attend a national convention of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, a great and memorable meeting. My second visit to St. Louis was in October, 1899.
From Plymouth to Terre Haute is 160 miles. From Terre Haute to St. Louis, 167 miles. The whole distance of 327 miles seems to be through a rich farming region with beautiful towns as centers of trade.
The journey out was made by daylight, an afternoon ride to Terre Haute, an all night tarrying at the hospitable rectory and a visit with Rev. and Mrs. Sulger, reaching St. Louis at 2 p. m. next day.
Entertainment offered and accepted in August, made me a guest of the churchmen of St. Louis at the Planters hotel during my stay in the city as a delegate to the National Missionary Council of the Protestant Episcopal church.
This council includes all the bishops of the American church, 86; three rectors and three laymen from the 59 dioceses of the United States, and one minister and one layman from each of the 19 missionary districts. More than half of the bishops and nearly half of the other delegates were present. The work of the council is altogether missionary in discussion and resolution without legislation. The first great meeting was a gathering of the Sunday-schools of the church in St. Louis at Music hall, 3 p. m., Sunday, Oct. 22, with the clergy and vested choirs, about 4,000 in all, singing hymns and listening to missionary addresses. In the evening the cathedral was overflowing with a congregation of older people listening to more addresses. Monday was devoted to visiting and excursions. My visits were with John W. Gallagher in the Vandallia office, Holbrook G. Cleveland in insurance offices, and Mrs. G. S. Cleveland and daughter at the residence. My excursion was down the river 14 miles to Jefferson barracks where a regiment was drilling preparatory for the Philippines.
The council proper began Tuesday, October 24, and continued three days. Chief interest was shown in graphic reports from our new "possessions and responsibilities," Hawaii, Cuba, Porto Rico, Philippines and also China and Japan. This mention is all that can be told in this letter. Almost breathless interest was awakened concerning China and Japan by thrilling addresses of the Rev. Dr. Edward Abbott, of Massachusetts, who with Mrs. Abbott has recently returned from a year's journey around the world, a journey and a narrative never overmatched in religious work.
The incidental acquaintance and visiting of delegates now first personally known to each other was an especial pleasure. Some bishops and others were entertained at private residences, but quite a company was gathered in the homelike and elegant Planters hotel. Eight or ten tables in the southwest corner of the great dining room were given to the use of the churchmen assembled from the four quarters of the United States. Central Indiana could take across table with Vermont, while Alabama was fraternal at the right hand, Minnesota at the left, California near and Kansas and New York all around. One social function which included all was a reception given by a churchwoman residing opposite the place of meeting, where a delicious luncheon was served to some 250 on Thursday noon.
St. Louis has population of nearly one million of people and is a reminder of Baltimore rather than of any northern city. It is a great, hospitable town with the usual towering buildings and pleasant homes, and the largest, nicest railroad depot in the whole world. Of its 30 different tracks I started for home by Vandallia line on track No. 8.

WAGON WORKS SOLD.

PLANT PURCHASED BY N. H. TIMMS LAST FRIDAY.

Was Sold by J. M. Kyser, Local Agent—Factory to Be Opened Soon—They Will Manufacture Wagons Here—No Bonus Asked.

The Plymouth Wagon factory was sold last Friday by J. M. Kyser to H. M. Timms and J. O. Winstead, of Indianapolis. It is the intention of the purchasers to form a stock company and carry on the manufacture of wagons here. They look upon Plymouth as being admirably suited for a factory because of its excellent railroad facilities. They ask no money from our citizens but come here of their own accord. Mr. Winstead will be the business manager and will be here next week to make preparations for the opening of the shop.

HORSE THIEF CAPTURED.
He Trades the Rig for a Bicycle and Disappears.

About two weeks ago a young man, giving his name as Clarence Goodman, drove into Argos from Burr Oak and traded his horse and buggy to J. W. Hank for a bicycle and then left the bicycle here and disappeared. His actions were regarded with suspicion but no further information could be obtained until it was learned that the man was arrested at Blue Island, Ill., for horse stealing. He had stolen a fine rig in Waukesha, Wis., and driven to Milwaukee, where he exchanged horses at a livery barn. He drove on to Hammond, where he again traded horses this time getting a cheap sorrel horse. He came to Burr Oak and there traded the buggy for a cheaper one and received $25 boot money. After leaving Argos he went to Chicago and stole another rig which answered to the description of the first rig stolen. Sheriff King, of Waukesha, had sent out cards describing the man and rig, and when Goodman reached Blue Island he was detained by the Sheriff there. King went directly to Blue Island and found the man he wanted but a different rig. The man was arrested and the rig returned. Mr. King was in Argos this week trying to adjust matters.—Argos Reflector.

PYTHIAN LAWS VIOLATED.

Acts of Last Grand Lodge Are Declared to Be Unconstitutional.
The judiciary committee of the grand lodge, Knights of Pythias, in session at Indianapolis, has decided that nearly every act of the grand lodge at its last session is unconstitutional and not according to Pythian law, except the election of officers and amendment that the lodge as a body passed on. The "rural members" charge that there is too much politics in the grand lodge, and that more attention is paid to getting an office in hope of securing political preferment than to looking out for the cause of Pythianism. It was on their demand that the judiciary committee came here.

His Face Disfigured.
A stranger came into Plymouth last Thursday telling of an accident that had befallen him, the cause and the way in which it happened and in fact everything excepting the result having left but a shallow impression on the mind of this unfortunate. The story he tells is this: By mutual agreement he and Ed Lenfesty started on a drive to Inwood. At some point in their journey Ed left the buggy to go into a house when the horse, becoming frightened, started to run and made a quick turn into a driveway. The buggy was overturned and the lonesome individual made companionship with a picket fence so suddenly as to give his appearance a slightly dilapidated aspect. The horse, undaunted by such a little thing as that, continued its journey until it reached the end of the lane and there it stopped. Regaining control of the disobedient animal he found contentment in a return to the place from whence he came. Such is his account of what happened.
Ed, however, gives a somewhat different version of it. According to his recollection, his associate deserted him when they reached Inwood and turned around and came back.
How there could have been a runaway with no signs of it left on either the horse or the buggy is a mystery, and it seems more likely that either Ed or somebody else managed to have a happy time with him.

Upon his return to Plymouth he was taken to the county jail where Dr. Eley dressed his wounds.

Another Robbery at Walkerton.
Some time Saturday night or Sunday morning burglars broke into the dry goods store of Stevens & Grider, of Walkerton; and, leaving their old shoes there, walked away in new ones. They also carried off a small amount of goods from there, and at the Rose Bros. meat market they found over $2 in small change. They then entered a dwelling house and departed with a gold watch and $4 in money. As soon as the losses were discovered, the Hanna bloodhounds were sent for and, arriving at 10 o'clock, put upon the trail. They followed the L. E. & W. railway track to within three miles of this place, from whence they turned directly east and came out on the Michigan road. They kept this road as far south as Corbaley's house where they turned into the alley and then climbed the railroad track, crossing the river bridge and stopping immediately in front of the stock yards. It is supposed that the robbers boarded some train and left.
